Welcome to Ola Hawaiian Skin Care!

Mother Nature provides everything we need to maintain our skin and bodies. Plants have been used for thousands of years to cure disease, which is why ancient cultures created internal and external medicine based on the plants and earth elements available to them.

The early Polynesians brought their most revered and life sustaining plants to Hawaii in canoes. Many other cultures brought their most healing plants to Hawaii which were incorporated into Hawaiian plant medicine, La'au Lapa'au.

Inspired by ancient Polynesian plant knowledge and methods, Ola Tropical Apothecary has been making authentic, luxurious and indigenous plant based body products since 2005. Ola Tropical Apothecary premium natural bath and body products are authentically made in Hawaii..

Our unique group of pure plant based facial care products and protocols will allow you to offer your guests something they cannot get anywhere else.

OLA has partnered up with local skin care expert Kori Gaila to create a new 100% Hawaiian plant based facial care system that will only be offered in spas. Our treatments are non- skin specific and non-invasive, based entirely on healing massage techniques and natural plant medicine to offer your guests an authentic Hawaiian experience.

OLA's clinical skin care is a synergy of pure plant medicine and a contemporary approach to skin care based on a fusion of Eastern and Western approaches to health. A synergy between western knowledge and ancient wisdom has helped to inspire a unique approach to the skin that holds sacred the body in a delicate balance with nature and the world.

OLA encourages education and knowledge of energetic principals in nature to gain a deeper insight into the way certain imbalances present on the skin. An education in modern Esthetics is necessary to assure the appropriate level of professionalism. Modern Esthetics maintains a different way of "seeing" skin imbalances. OLA Skin Care works hand in hand with Clinical Esthetic principals to create our balanced approach to maintaining healthy skin and condition based skin care.

OLA prides itself on utilizing local organic and wild crafted ingredients. Within this consciousness an energetic property is contained that creates a unique potency that is evident in the use of our products. This understanding of oneness is intrinsic to Hawaiian culture and is realized in the circle that is created when the energy is transferred from the earth to the plant to the hands that harvest it, to the hands that create the products, to the client who experience the healing results.

This is the true art of ancient herbalism and this wisdom and connectivity is what separates Ola Tropical Apothecary products and services from other product lines.
